

Extended terms of use for ImpulseAnalytics

By using ImpulseAnalytics you agree to further processing and analysis of anonymized customer data. This data, including measuring data and machine data is automatically and regularly transmitted by ImpulseCheck to PROFICLOUD. On top of what is written in 31.1 of the Phoenix Contact software license terms, this data may also be used in scientific publications or to improve our services and products. This data may also be used for marketing purposes, including advertisements. The evaluation of customer data might be done both by Phoenix Contact or by third parties which are instructed by Phoenix Contact. The approval of these extended terms of use is necessary to use the ImpulseAnalytics service.

Please contact impulsecheck@phoenixcontact.com in case of further questions.
